

Thinking Maps: Circle Map

Purpose of Map:

To define in context. Similar to a brainstorm.

Thinking process:

This map helps us display what we already know or to define something. The outside is a box, this box is a frame of reference, this is where we write where our ideas have come from. The topic that you are defining/generating ideas about is in the circle in the middle. In the outer circle is where your ideas go.

Example of a Circle Map from the classroom.
