

Harry Potter

Challenge

However, when Harry reached the next and final chamber, he found a new surprise. The creature awaiting him was neither Snape nor Voldemort.

Well done for making it this far and challenging yourself in this final week of home learning,

You will now write an alternative ending to the events that took place in the final chamber, where Harry confronts The Man with Two Faces. The opening to your story has been done for you. You should continue your story from here.

It is up to you what happens in the final chamber. Use the planning sheet to help you form your ideas for Harry's final and explosive confrontation. Who or what does Harry meet in the final chamber? Was it still the man with two faces or something, or perhaps someone, else. Does Harry succeed in getting the Philosopher's stone? His fate is now in your hands!

Be creative and most importantly, have fun with your ideas.
