Term 4 Week 2

Art

We hope you had fun experimenting with texture last week, that learning will come in useful for this week's challenge. Many mythical creatures are made up of combinations of different animals, for example a Hippogriff is an eagle and a horse. Choose some unusual animals to combine and create your own mythical creature. What animals will you choose? What will you call your creature? You can use your new skills in creating texture to show the different parts of your new creature.

Geography

Although nobody knows for sure, it is thought that Hogwarts is somewhere in the Highlands of Scotland.

Compare the Highlands with Folkestone, using the information you found out last week.

How are they different?

Is there anything that is similar?

Harry Potter

Now we have come to the end of our Potions topic it is time to complete our learning about Harry Potter. Visit www.wizardingworld.com to explore the books further and challenge yourself to complete some of the quizzes.

Reflect on your learning, what have you enjoyed finding out about? What do you know now that you didn't before we started this topic?
