What the Ladybird Heard by Julia Donaldson

LO: To retrieve information from a story.

Did you enjoy our story yesterday? How many rhyming words did you find? Give your self a clap if you found more than five!

Today, you have a mission to become Super Story Tellers! Do you think you can do it?!

Every Super Story Teller needs a Story Tellers prop bag and that is your job for today! We would like you to make a story bag full of all the characters and important props that you will need for later in the week when you re tell your story!

Here are some links to resources that might help you or give you some ideas. Think about when we have made these in groups at school, how did you make your props then? Have you got any lollypop sticks? They are always useful! Remember to take photos of your props to stick in your learning books if you can—we would love to see what you have made!
