Today it's time to conclude your adventure story! You need to write your ending by thinking carefully about what your problem was and how your characters are going to solve it!

Remember, no good story finishes with 'The End' so please don't write this! The very last sentence of your story should be a concluding sentence—one that wraps the whole story up. If you need some ideas have a look at these: story ending sentences

Good luck with your writing today—we can't wait to read your finished stories!
